BRETT WISHART FIRMLY BELIEVES in the importance of family. As a family law attorney who daily deals with the many tangled legalities of divorce, he is often asked if he is happy when the divorce rates spike. For many attorneys, more family breakups typically means more clients and more money but Mr. Wishart thinks differently. As a husband for more than 15 years, and a father of eight children, he genuinely relates to the many complexities of family life and aims to prevent further hardship. Mr. Wishart became a family law attorney to help families in crisis. He knows that those going through such a difficult and personal process need someone who is prepared and will protect, provide clarity and offer knowledgeable direction. Since 2005, Mr. Wishart has been serving families in Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and Los Angeles Counties.

After working as a legal clerk in his father's family law firm for a number of years while going through school, Mr. Wishart realized how important it was for clients to receive personal attention. His father had a way with clients that really impacted Mr. Wishart.

"I saw how he would help these people," says Mr. Wishart. "Their lives were weighed down and they were in a place they never thought they would be. He calmed them, provided sound advice and guided them through the process. I knew I wanted to do the same thing for people."

Recently, Mr. Wishart won a case for a young mother who was being threatened with loss of custody of her two small children during her divorce. The father was claiming she was putting the children in an abusive environment. One accusation quickly turned into many.

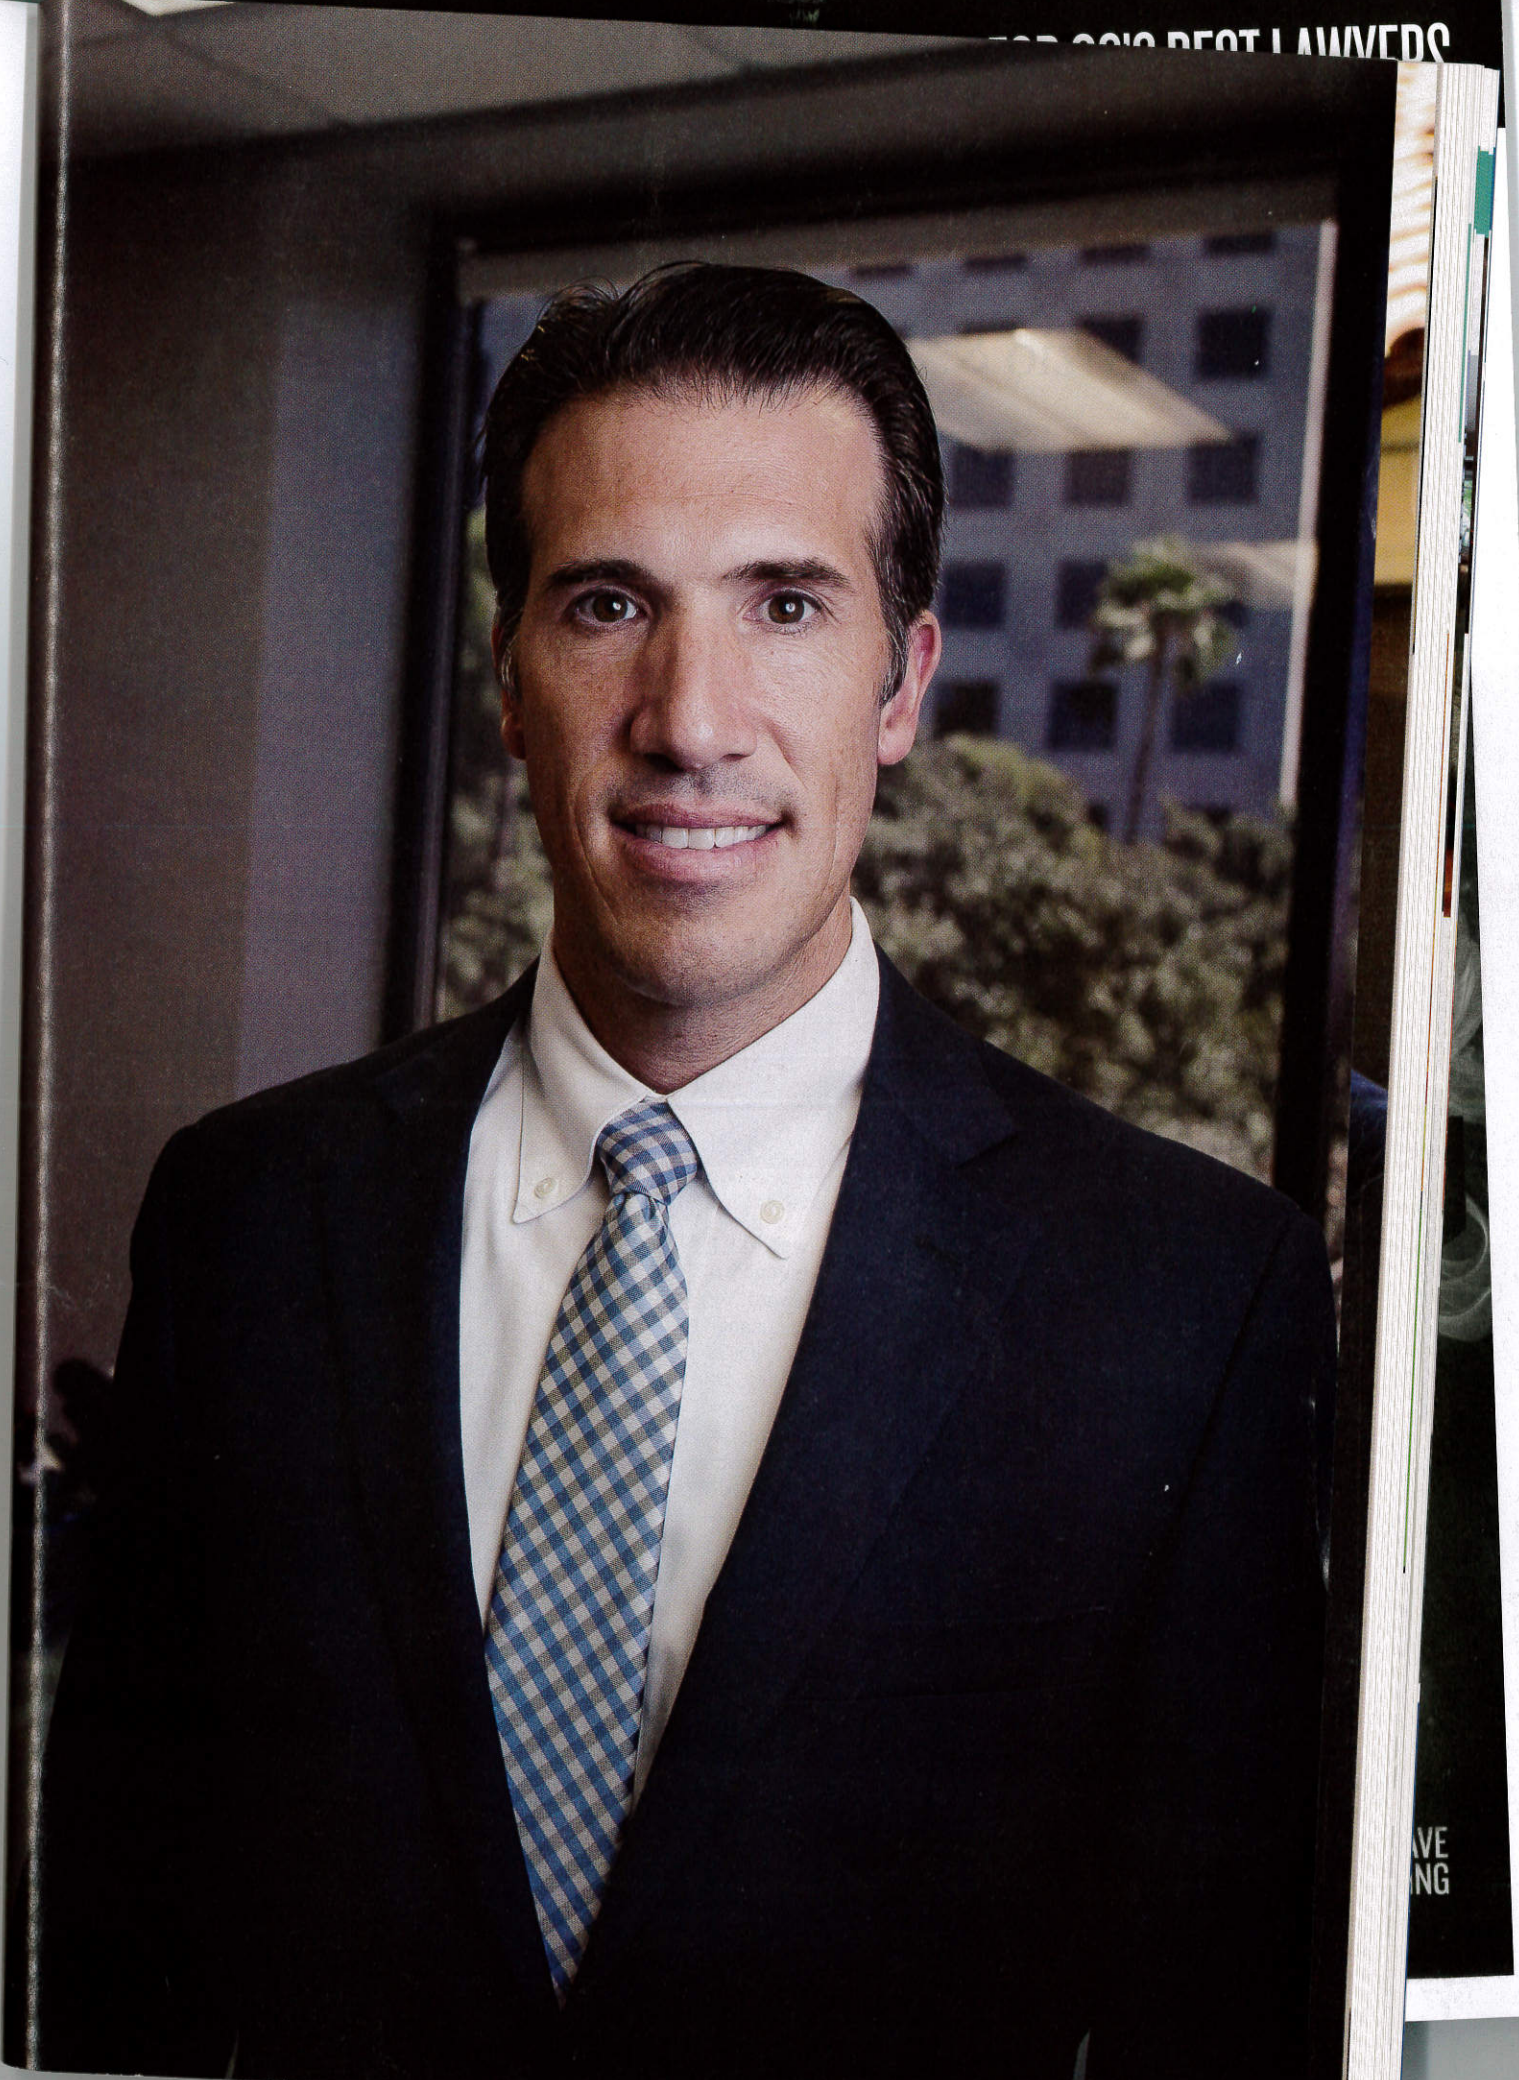

After employing experts to examine the claims, and following a trial of several days, Mr. Wishart won the mother sole legal and physical custody of her children. All of the father's allegations were deemed false and he now is professionally monitored on each visit with his children.

With an Avvo.com rating of 10 out of 10, Mr. Wishart handles divorce, legal separation, annulment, adoption, child and spousal support, division of property, modifications, move-away cases and many other law issues that occur in family law. The American Institute of Family Law Attorneys (AIOFLA) recently named Mr. Wishart as one of the "10 Best" Attorneys for California for Client Satisfaction in the practice area of Family Law.

"My policy is to return all phone calls as soon as possible," says Mr. Wishart. "My clients have my personal email to reach me at any time. I make myself really accessible."

Located in Irvine, near the Spectrum, Mr. Wishart's office is right off of the 5, 405 and 133 freeways. His office has represented people from all walks of life ranging from celebrities to single mothers.

"I often feel like an emergency room doctor," says Mr. Wishart. "I don't want anyone to get hurt but when they do I'm here to help."
